

Non-Vestoid candidate asteroids in the inner main belt (Corrigendum)

Dagmara A. Oszkiewicz^{1,2}, Brian A. Skiff², Nick Moskovitz², Paweł Kankiewicz³, Anna Marciniak², Javier Licandro^{4,5}, Mattia A. Galiazzo⁶, and Werner W. Zeilinger⁷

¹ Astronomical Observatory Institute, Faculty of Physics, A. Mickiewicz University, Słoneczna 36, 60-286 Poznań, Poland
e-mail: oszkiewi@astro.amu.edu.pl

² Lowell Observatory, 14000 W Mars Hill Rd, 86001 Flagstaff, AZ, USA

³ Institute of Physics, Astrophysics Division, Jan Kochanowski University, Swietokrzyska 15, 25-406 Kielce, Poland

⁴ Instituto de Astrofísica de Canarias (IAC), C/ Vía Láctea sn, 38205 La Laguna, Spain

⁵ Departamento de Astrofísica, Universidad de La Laguna, 38206 La Laguna, Tenerife, Spain

⁶ Department of Physics and Astronomy, University of Western Ontario, 1151 Richmond Street, London, Ontario, Canada

⁷ Institut für Astrophysik der Universität Wien, Türkenschanzstraße 17, 1180 Wien, Austria

A&A 599, A107 (2017), DOI: 10.1051/0004-6361/201629551

Key words. minor planets, asteroids: general – meteorites, meteors, meteoroids – techniques: photometric – errata, addenda

An error occurred during the production process: Fig. 5 was wrong. The correct figure is shown here.

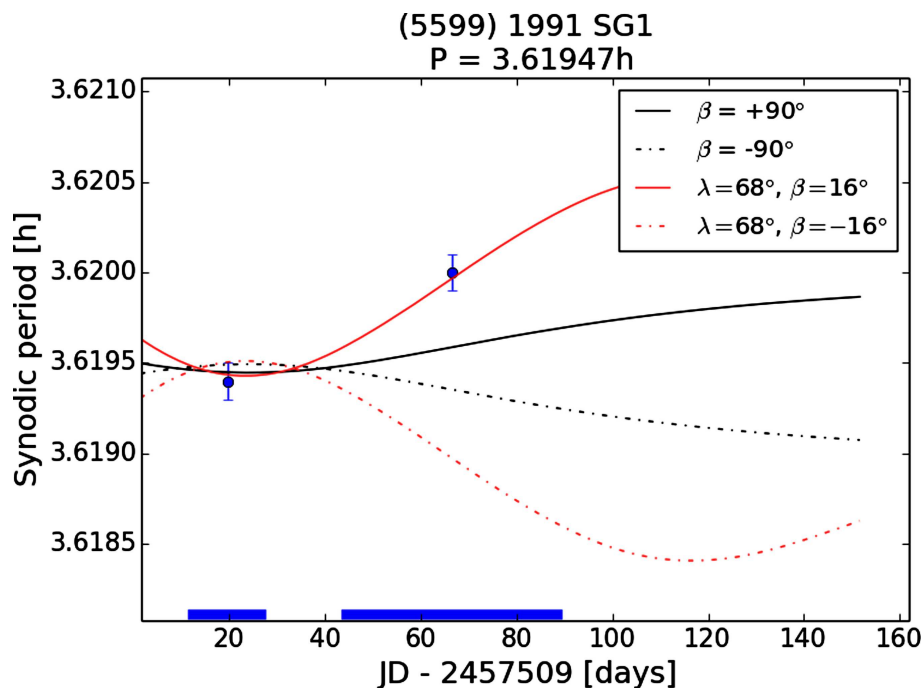

Fig. 5. Model synodic period as in Fig. 1, but for (5599) 1999 SG1.